DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings were received on January 8, 2007. These drawings are acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Applicant has overcome the indefiniteness rejections by amendment and by remarks.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Dovek et al (US PAP No. 20050099727 A1).

As recited in claim 1, Dovek et al show a magnetic write head (see Fig. 6), having an ABS (left surface in Figs. 6) and reduced adjacent track erasure, comprising: upper 11 and lower (including 12, 62 and 63) poles separated by a write gap 13, there being an indentation in an outer (left) surface of said lower pole whereby a recess is present in the ABS (especially compare Fig. 6 to Applicant's Fig. 13).

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Stoev et al (US Pat. No. 6724572 B1).

As recited in claim 1, Stoev et al show a magnetic write head (see Fig. 1, 3 or 4), having an ABS (lower surface in Fig. 1, 3 or 4) and reduced adjacent track erasure, comprising: upper 72 and lower poles (including 46, 108 or 208, inter alia) separated by a write gap 70, there being an indentation in an outer surface of said lower pole whereby a recess (66, or 112 and 114, or 216) is present in the ABS.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2-33 are allowed.
7. See reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter stated in the office action mailed October 11, 2006.

Response to Amendment

8. Applicant's remarks filed January 8, 2007, have been fully considered.

On page 12, Applicant requests a Notice of Allowance. The Examiner apologizes to Applicant for having omitted the rejection of claim 1 from the office action mailed October 11, 2006. The Examiner further apologizes for an error appearing on form PTOL 326, Office Action Summary mailed October 11, 2006. The "Disposition of Claims" should have read, --Claims 1-34 are pending in the application. Of the above claims 34 is withdrawn from consideration. Claims 2-17 are allowed. Claims 1 and 18-33 are rejected.-- Because claim 1 is anticipated, allowance is not appropriate at this time. The Examiner apologizes for failing to bring this rejection to Applicant's attention in the first action on the merits.
